

Reading Putnam (Philosophers and Their Critics)

This volume, which arises out of the 1990 Gifford conference on the philosophy of Hilary Putnam, contains nine papers on central themes of Putnam's thought and its evolution. The contributors are Michael Hallett, Michael Dummett, Michael Redhead, Clark Glymour, Crispin Wright, David Wiggins, Tom Ricketts, Simon Blackburn and George Boolos. Each presents a major critical appraisal of Putnam's contribution to an area of current philosophical research. The volume also contains a substantial editorial introduction.
