

Kicking Away the Ladder: Development Strategy in Historical Perspective

How did the rich countries really become rich? In this provocative study, Ha-Joon Chang examines the great pressure on developing countries from the developed world to adopt certain good policies and good institutions, seen today as necessary for economic development. His conclusions are compelling and disturbing: that developed countries are attempting to kick away the ladder with which they have climbed to the top, thereby preventing developing countries from adopting policies and institutions that they themselves have used.

Ha-Joon Chang is a South Korean institutional economist and socialist specialising in development economics.
